rethink food & waste film & speaker night

Join us to watch this award-winning, witty & provocative documentary about kids & food politics, produced by Aubin Pictures in association with Bullfrog Films, and hear from some of our local champions about happenings in our schools, and how we're working together to support local good food programs & build community resiliency!

Over the course of one year, the film follows Sadie & Safiyah, two 11-year-olds, as they explore their place in the food chain by talking to food activists, famers and storekeepers, in addressing their questions about the origin of the food we eat, and how its cultivated. They learn about innovative sustainable food system practices & discover a number of positive effects: they're good for the environment, help struggling farmers survive & provide affordable, locally grown food.

Special Guest Speakers

Gord Trousdell will tell us about West Vancouver Secondary School's newly launched Urban Agriculture Credit Program that kicks off in September.

Emily Jubenville of Edible Garden Project will share the story of Queen Mary Elementary School's FED UP! Program.

Margaret Broughton, our community nutritionist with Vancouver Coastal Health, will tell us about local food security initiatives & ways to get involved.
